These content has revealed deep insights into the real way of inner thinking of leading members of the US Intelligence Community: At first Russia has not been judged as a real threat for the USA. Only the establishing of the Republics of Abkhazia and South Ossetia by the Russian GRU has caused critical thoughts. As a result of legitimate security interests of Russia's Geopolitics this strategy to establish buffer zones against an expansion of the NATO has been recognized. Maybe these "žexchange of information" has paved the way to the Putin-Trump-Summit to come on Monday?
